LINC

✓
Mr. Warren Wilhelm, Jr.

October 28, 1964

Last week furnished some of us an immensely satisfying experience. The Religion in College Life program was one of the best campus religious programs in my memory. It was largely due to the hearty and co-operative support of so many people. Your contribution was a great help. Dr. Hyde asked me also to express his appreciation.

Thank you for the interesting discussion at four on Wednesday afternoon.

Evansville College

1964

Volume XLII

*Lin stands for Lincoln, the avenue wide
On which fronts the campus, the field of our pride.
C means not only the College we praise—
The school we will love throughout all our days—
But Clifford, the father, a true pioneer
Who blazed out the way with a vision clear.
L in C read aright, Life in College appears,
Love in College translate it, if that suits your years.
But though C stands for College and Culture, 'til true,
'Tis the first part of City, Community, too;
And while we LinC up each year to the past,
Forging a chain that will hold us all fast.
We mean to LinC, also, our life here in school
To life in the world—though opposed to all rule—
That we may give freely of our very best
To the City which touches our doors on the west,
And that it in its turn may teach us to know
How to best serve our fellows as through life we go.
Thus of whatever phase of our College we think,
It is all to be found in the one word—the LinC.*

Wahnita DeLong

This poem was written in 1922 for the first LinC ever published. Wahnita DeLong was an English teacher and later became Dean of Women. This book was edited by Ralph E. Olmsted, who is now College Business Manager.

IN APPRECIATION

In 1928, a young Evansville College graduate was appointed business manager of the school. In November, 1963, that same man celebrated his 35th anniversary as business manager of Evansville College.

Ralph Olmsted's years of association with Evansville College, as the student, a faculty member and an administrator, have been filled with many firsts.

He enrolled as a freshman in 1919, the first year classes were held at E.C. In October of that same year he played a major role in establishing the school newspaper, THE CRESCENT. He served as the first editor of the paper.

In his junior year, he was instrumental in publishing the first LinC. Mr. Olmsted was editor of the first yearbook published in 1922.

As vice president of the Student Government Association (he served two consecutive terms in this office), he was a member of the court that tried the first two cases of cheating under the College's Honor System.

Upon his graduation from E.C. in 1923, in a class of 23, Mr. Olmsted began teaching at Cynthiana High School. He spent his summer as a reporter for the Evansville Courier and taught for a year at Central High School. In 1925 he returned to the College as the first instructor of journalism. Three years later he was appointed business manager.

Through these many years, Mr. Olmsted has made numerous contributions to the growth and development of Evansville College. His tireless work has helped to build the school that exists today, and he will continue to be an important part of many future events concerning E.C.

"Mr. Olmsted has been a catalyst in many projects undertaken by the school, and has established an efficiency in his department that would be hard to equal. He has not just shuffled papers and kept books, however. He has taken a truly personal interest in helping young people. He has displayed understanding and confidence in students when many people have rejected them," commented Robert Rowland, assistant to the president in charge of public relations and development.

Edgar McKown, director of religious life, a close friend of Mr. Olmsted's since their college days at E.C., said, "Since 1919, Ralph has been related to the College, except for two years, as a student or staff member. In a real sense he is Mr. Evansville College. To many, many people, though, he is just Ralph, a warm-hearted, highly respected friend."

To Ralph E. Olmsted, who truly can be called "Mr. Evansville College," we dedicate this 1964 LinC, as an expression of our sincere appreciation for his constant efforts and continued loyalty to Evansville College. A job well done, Mr. Olmsted.

RALPH E. OLMSTED

"PETE" BLAND, ANNE PAMPE

Angel Crowned ROTC Sweetheart

Donna Greenfield was crowned honorary cadet colonel of the twelfth annual Military Ball in March. Billie Sue Stirn and Kaye Sims were the two other Angel Flight candidates for the honor. Donna received the cape of colonel and Billie Sue and Kaye were named honorary lieutenant colonels.

The theme of the ball was "Forever Blue," and it was co-sponsored by the Arnold Air Society and Angel Flight. Music was provided by the Rick Sutherlin Band, and Jim Mosier was master of ceremonies.

Queen Donna Greenfield wore the cape of honorary cadet colonel of the spring Military Ball.

Billie Sue Stirn, Kaye Sims, and Donna Greenfield were the candidates for Military Ball Queen.

Students danced to the music of Rick Sutherlin and his Band at the annual event.

LOVE AND THE MAIL RIDE THE SAME RAILS

The Evansville College Theater steamed along the rails of success with their production of "Love Rides the Rails, or Will the Mail Train Run To-night?" The spring melodrama provided fight scenes, frolicking chases and humorous recitations for full-house audiences.

Jim Clark, Sandi Stinson, Gary Beyer, and Sally Hadley stood for prudence and modesty, while Hon David Lutz, and Judy Johnson took a treacherous stand. The sets for the play were designed by Dudley Thomas, and director of the play was Sam Smiley.

Gary Bayer keeps lookout while the "innocent" lovers, Sandi Stinson and Jim Clark, share a moment together.

Sandy Stinson and Rand Ihle perform in one of the many acts sprinkled between the scenes of the play.

Flanked by can-can girls, Judy Butler peels off her costume in the saloon scene.

Villains John Lutz and Duane Campbell are foiled in their attempt to stop the mail train.

SIG EPS RUMBLE TO MUSICAL MADNESS WIN

The men of Sigma Phi Epsilon rumbled their way to a Musical Madness victory with a take-off on the popular Broadway musical, "West Side Story." Jim Lewis won the best director award for the Sig Ep production.

Alpha Omicron Pi won the women's division with "Two Sweet to be Forgotten," a fairy tale about Candyland.

Lambda Chi Alpha placed second in the men's division, and Beta Sigma Omicron placed second in the women's division.

Lambda Chi's dance their way to a second place victory.

Phi Mu's present a three ring circus complete with animals and acrobats.

Victorious Sig Eps rush to the stage after learning of their win.

AOPi director Barbara Brown leads her sisters in a victory song and yell.

The casts and directors of Musical Madness combine their efforts to provide a rousing finale to the evening's performance.

Student Slate candidates were Stan Weinstock, Linda Branaman, Allen McCutchan, Sandy Bates, and Gary Edwards.

Clown Rick Matthiesen hands voter Sharon Crofts some All-Campus party literature in the campaign.

All-Campus Party candidates were Nancy Morris, Larry Williams, Judy Taylor, Don Vogel, and Janet Pounds.

SGA OFFICERS ELECTED IN CLOSE RACE

The Student Slate won three of five offices in Student Government Association elections in May, with Allen McCutchan, an independent candidate on the Student Slate, victorious in the presidential race. He defeated Don Voegl, Sig Ep All-Campus aspirant, by a scant twenty-five votes.

Others elected were Gary Edwards, SS, vice-president; Linda Branaman, SS, secretary; Judy Taylor, ACP, treasurer; and Nancy Morris, ACP, delegate at large.

Much to their mascot Brandy Chi's discomfort, the Lambda Chi's demonstrate clean leadership in the SGA elections.

NOLAN KNIGHTED BY "SLIDE-RULES"

Annette Nolan, representing Alpha Omicron Pi, reigned as queen of the Engineering Club picnic at Yabroudy Park in May.

The annual activities were highlighted by volleyball and softball games. The women of Alpha Omicron Pi defeated the Phi Mu's in the final round to place first in the women's volleyball competition. The men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon won the men's volleyball competition, and Tau Kappa Epsilon was victorious in the softball event.

Sorority women compete in the women's volleyball contest.

SAE's and Teke's compete in the men's volleyball contest.

VICKI BROWN SELECTED MISS EVANSVILLE COLLEGE

Miss Vicki Brown was selected as Miss Evansville College during Friday night activities of the first campus "Sproket Festival" activities. She was chosen to represent Evansville in the 1963 Miss Indiana contest.

Pam Miller was first runner-up, and Donna King was second runner-up. Anita Ruckman was chosen "Miss Congeniality" by the eight finalists.

Vicki was judged on appearance and poise in an evening gown and a bathing suit. Her talent selection was a baton routine.

Entertainment by the nationally famous Four Lads singing group followed the contest.

Vicki Brown, a freshman from Eldorado, Ill., beams with happiness after she was crowned Miss Evansville College.

Pam Miller, Donna King, and Vicki Brown were the three finalists selected from eight entrants. The candidates were judged on appearance in evening gowns, swim suits and a talent presentation.

Thorton Patberg, master of ceremonies, introduces Miss Indiana before the final announcement of the winner of the contest.

FIRST SPRING WEEK END

Bike riders round the last turn of the pace lap to start the grueling 39 mile Sproket Festival bicycle race.

The first place Lambda Chi's know that precious seconds are gained or lost in the exchange of riders.

Many smooth exchanges helped Ron Martin and Gene Hahn pace the Tekes to a second place win.

PROVES TO BE A SUCCESS

Sponsoring groups yelled their teams to victory in the Sproket Festival bicycle race.

Recently crowned Miss Evansville College, Miss Vicki Brown, congratulates the winners of the bicycle race.

The checkered flag of victory is lowered after the Lambda Chi rider races over the finish line.

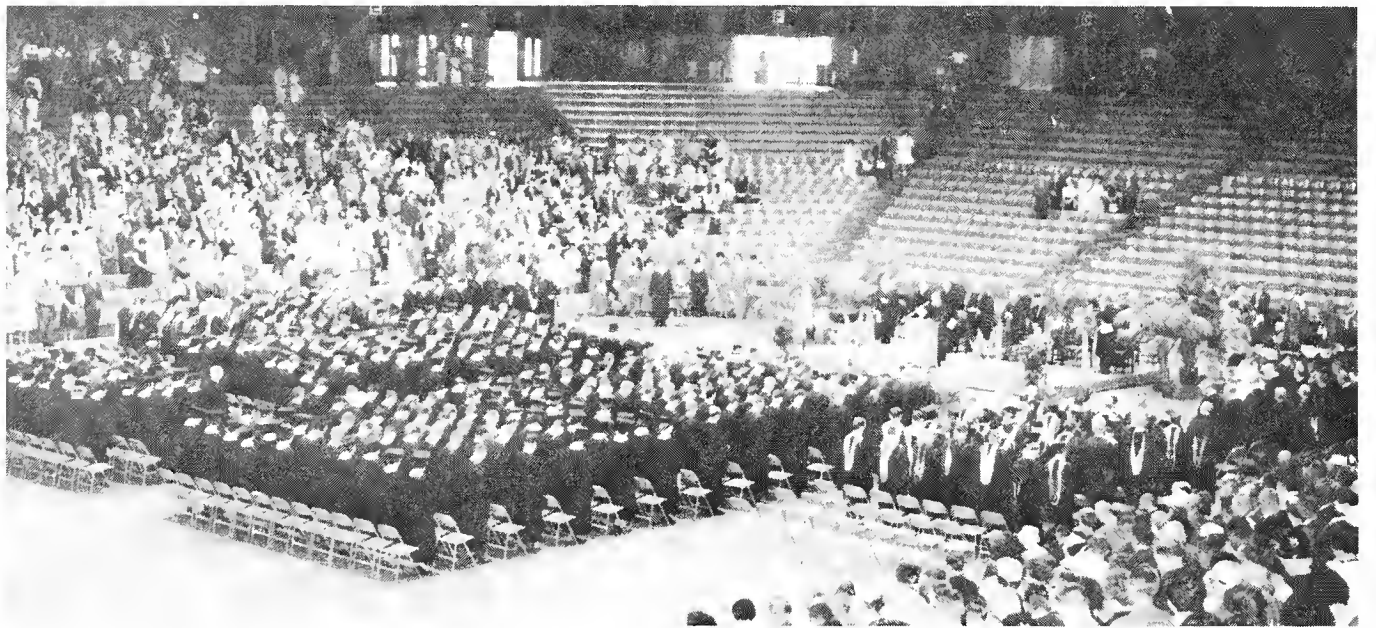

A proud graduate places her tassel on the other side of her mortar board, signifying she is now a graduate.

NEW FUTURE AWAITS 1963 E.C. GRADUATES

Three hundred twenty-five graduating seniors received degrees in Commencement exercises June 3, 1963, at Roberts Municipal Stadium.

Dr. Herman C. Krannert, founder of the Krannert foundation, was the guest speaker for the event. Bishop Edwin Edgar Voight, Resident Bishop of the Illinois area of the Methodist Church of Springfield, Ill., delivered the baccalaureate address to the graduating seniors the day before the commencement exercises.

Dr. Melvin W. Hyde congratulates a recipient of an honorary degree.

Miss Gayla Dame, a Bosse graduate, beams with joy moments after she was crowned Icebreaker Dance Queen.

BEGINNING BRINGS BUSTLE OF ACTIVITIES

The beginning of school brought fun, excitement and thrill to E.C. students. At the very successful Icebreaker Dance Miss Gayla Dame reigned as queen with a crown of yellow rose buds. The cheerleaders made their debut at the E.C.—St. Joseph game. At that same game Mr. C. F. Behme was named “Father of the Year.” He was selected by members of the football team.

Mr. C. F. Behme is congratulated by Dr. Melvin Hyde shortly after being named “Father of the Year” at the annual Dad’s Day football game. Mr. Behme is the father of football ace Jack Behme.

The lineup that will start at both the football and basketball games—the cheerleaders. The girls are Beth Edwards, Gayla Dame, Joy Hankins, captain, Connie Hughey, Karen Adams, Kendra Beesley, and Connie Krause.

Coach Paul Beck stimulates the students at the pep rally, "Come on, we've got to give them that old school spirit."

Arad McCutchan has this to say about that pep rally for the football team: "Give 'em the old basketball spirit."

LAMBDA CHI "BUST" FOLLOWS RALLY

Smiles of pleasure or pain??? Dottie Neyhouse, Lee Howard, Sally Elliott, Mary Helen Gough and Sara Struble got tingling thrills in the ice-sitting contest at the Lambda Chi's "Watermelon Bust."

Bonnie Mills receives one of her prizes from Don Vann as a result of being crowned Miss Watermelon Bust.

Thornton Patberg eats his way to victory in the faculty watermelon eating contest.

Sandy Bentley and Linda Campbell execute a tricycle exchanges that won them first place as Judy Shafer urges them on.

MEN AND WO

Fraternity pledges are shown leaving the Ad Building moments after pledging.

Lambda Chi pledges are congratulated by actives.

Pete Golightly is surrounded by his SAE brothers who formally welcome him to the group.

Greek pledges and actives get acquainted following men's pledging.

MEN RUSH TOGETHER

Beta Sigma Omicron rushees walked the streets of Paris into a cafe filled with paintings. The talented "Parisians" are Susan Roell, Diane Minton, Sara Struble, and Pam Buckley.

Bobbye Clary and Dorinda Dudley hover over Tammy Young in their "Wizard of Oz" scene.

Phi Mu's Kathy Rosborough, Carol Daniel and Jackie Thompson gave rushees some of Japan's Hospitality during their rush party.

Gale Wilson, Nancy Roser, and Anita Ruckman, in a Hawaiian setting, present the hula to the Alpha Omicron Pi rushees.

TWENTY-FIFTH HOMECOMING

Pretty Dorinda Dudley is surrounded by her Chi Omega sisters after the announcement that she was selected the 1962 Homecoming Queen.

Viewing the Homecoming game from their royal position are the Homecoming Queen and her Princesses. Seated from left are Allen McCutchan, SGA president; Wanda Young, princess; Dorinda Dudley, queen; and Bonnie Washington, princess.

Placing first in Class AA Men's Division was Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Beta Sigma Omicron came in first in the Class AA Women's Division.

Winning first in the Class A was the BiSci Club.

BRINGS "SILVER MIST"

Music by the Blue Barron Orchestra provided the finishing touches for the 25th Homecoming at E.C. This year's activities included men's and women's tricycle races and stilt races, a men's tug-of-war and a chug-a-lug contest for the women.

Homecoming Queen Dorinda Dudley and her royal princesses, Bonnie Washington and Wanda Young, reigned over the football half time activities and the dance. Members of the royal court were Sara Struble, Barbara Kirsch and Esther Tyler.

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity gets into the swing of Homecoming activities by participating in the tug-of-war.

Maryann Egan smiles after losing the stilt race to the men's dorm.

Winston Evans hands the trike to Tucker Queen as the men's dorm rides to first place.

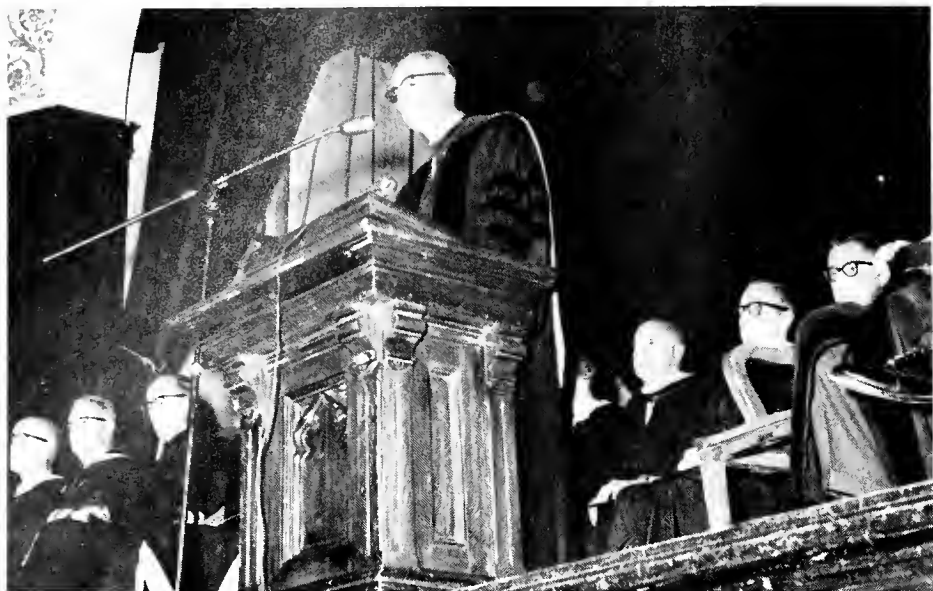

Sandy VanArsdall discovers that in order to win the tricycle race, she must repair her tricycle.

The chug-a-lug—how many cups of cider can be downed—is always an exciting event at the Homecoming activities.

FALL FEATURES POLITICS AND CULTURE

One of the many book reviews given throughout the year was done by Miss Ann Stuart.

Mayor Frank MacDonald is shown after leaving the Union where he spoke to Evansville College Young Democrats about the growth of Evansville during his administration.

Mayoral candidate Hank Roberts fired both barrels at Evansville's mayor at a meeting of the Young Republican's Club.

Moore Hall

A Christmas tree adds a touch of home life to the dorm.

Dorm living is one of the most valued educational processes during the college career. Friendships are developed which are often the most lasting of a lifetime. Even after a roommate graduates and moves to a new town, there is always a fond memory and a warm greeting at future encounters.

Among Moore Hall's social activities this year were a get-acquainted party and a Moore Hall—Hughes Hall mixer in the fall, a Halloween party, a Christmas coffee for the faculty and staff, Christmas caroling, and a Valentine party for orphans.

Bonnie Mills served as president of Moore Hall; Nancy Harmon, vice-president; Shirl McDonald, secretary; Joy Reagan, treasurer; Bobbie Yonko, publicity chairman; and Erin Hope, historian. The counselors were Jane Harmon, senior counselor; Beth Ann Bays, first floor counselor; Pat Tressel, second floor counselor; and Sharron Sonner, third floor counselor. Mrs. Sally Fields is housemother.

Moore Hall Adds Wings

Two new north and south wings, costing more than $550,000 were added to Moore Hall last summer. Only the ground level of the wings were used this year. But the plan calls for girls living in fours, sharing two bedrooms, a bath and a study room. Twenty-four girls will occupy these apartments with twelve in each wing.

"Togetherness" is the motto for the Hughes Hall men. Their organized efforts have given them a high rating in the intramural sports field. They have won the Co-ed tennis, the cross country, swimming and Turkey Trot trophies.

Other activities of the Hughes Hall men were a Hughes—Moore Hall mixer in both the fall and winter, a Christmas Party and Christmas caroling.

John Robb served as president of Hughes Hall; Carol Davis, vice-president; Grover Cleveland, secretary-treasurer; and Mike Beard, historian. Floor counselors were: Benny Brewster, first floor; Leo Waninger, second floor, and Jim Clark, third floor, Mrs. Irene Ogden, whom the men affectionately call Mom or Mommy, is the head resident.

Apartment Living

Bigney—Franklin—Hovda Houses are cooperative residences established in 1960 to give college men and women an opportunity to learn practical and useful lessons in living.

The apartments are on an honor system with no one on academic probation allowed to live there.

Among Bigney—Franklin—Hovda Houses activities this year were a dessert and party, a dance, "Fall Frolic," in the Union Patio, a Christmas collection of food for a needy family, and a Christmas caroling party.

The officers for Bigney House were: Charles Harmon, president; Richard Schlansker, vice-president, and Milt Butterworth, secretary-treasurer, Joe Cook was house counselor, and Mrs. Amy Vance Weeks was head resident.

Sandy Ferguson served as president of Franklin House; Anncitta Moore, vice-president; Beverly Justice, secretary; Nancy Newkirk, treasurer; Carole Carstens, historian; Marilyn Kendel, A—Wing representative, and Esther Tyler, B—Wing representative. Doris Stonecipher was house counselor, and Mrs. Arthur Tyler was head resident.

Wayne Boultinghouse was elected president of Hovda House and Jim Hagedorn was secretary-treasurer. Dave Cox was house counselor and Mrs. Don Widick was head resident.

Married Life in Torbet House

Late studying for Larry Richert is stimulated by a cup of coffee from his wife.

What's it like to be married while going to school? These three couples are typical of the married students at Evansville College. Their life centers around part-time, and for some full-time, jobs, baby sitting, and classwork.

Torbet House is the only college owned apartment house for married students. It houses twelve couples and is one of four college owned apartment houses. The other three are for single men and women.

E. C. Journalists Are Active

Members of THE CRESCENT and LinC staffs were hosts for visiting high school journalism students at the 15th annual Journalism Day. Featured speaker this year was Gretchen A. Kemp, professor of the Annual High School Journalism Institute at Indiana University.

November 22, several members of the E.C. chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, National journalism honorary, traveled to Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Illinois, for their national convention.

Don Hesse, editorial cartoonist for the St. Louis Globe Democrat, gives an after-dinner speech at the convention.

Mike Brooks, Les Nunn, Allen Koester, Gene Schultz, Larry Opperman, Bill Canup and Steve Fischer received AFROTC awards during Winter Quarter.

Angels, AFROTC Contribute to School Activities

Angel Flight and Arnold Air Society combined their talents on many projects this year. Two major activities, however, consumed most of their time. The Military Ball took many long hours of planning and preparation from members of these groups.

The National Conclave of their groups was held in March and both groups spent several months raising money to send representatives to the meeting in Denver, Colorado.

Angel Flight rushees discuss school affairs and other issues as Angel Flight has its most successful rush season.

Members of Beta Sigma Omicron are presented to Angel Flight and Arnold Air Society members at the final rush party.

The entire cast of "Twelfth Night" assembles for the finale.

R SHAKESPEARIAN COMEDY

Jim Butler woos Cherie Meyer while Jim Clark looks on in amazement.

Evansville College Theatre opened its forty-first season with a production of William Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night."

Perhaps Shakespeare's funniest comedy, "Twelfth Night" concerns a young noblewoman, Viola, who disguises herself as a man in the service of Orsino, Duke of Illyria. The Duke sends Viola to his love, Olivia, with hope of persuading her to marry him. But Olivia, who knows Viola as the servant Cesario, falls in love with the disguise. This case of mistaken identity results in many hilarious situations.

A sub-plot is found in the revenge of Olivia's servants on her surly steward, Malvolio. The servants write a letter for Malvolio to find which makes him sure that Olivia is in love with him. Malvolio's strange behavior as a result of his mistaken belief causes him to be considered mad by all those who are not in on the joke.

A king presents a crown to the Christ child, being held by Mary, as Joseph and two angels look on.

EAGER HEART

"Eager Heart," Evansville College's annual Christmas play, was presented for the 35th consecutive time December 15, 1963. The play was written shortly before World War I by A. M. Bucton, author of "Beauty and the Beast." It was presented for the first time in 1928 by Miss Pearle LeCompte.

The play deals with a current lack of concern for the true meaning of Christmas and the loss of a true belief in Christ. The subject of the play is the annual visitation of the Holy Family in the form of a medieval mystery-morality play.

The mystery appears in the examination of the Christmas story, while the morality element is in the form of a conflict between Eager Heart, who is the only one to offer shelter to the strangers at her door, and Eager Sense and Eager Fame. While all wish to honor the Child, Eager Heart is the only one to hear the call of truth over the senseless blare of festival.

Dudley Thomas, co-head of the speech and drama department, was director of the production.

Dudley Thomas and Duane Campbell compare notes as Jim Butler and Jim Pope rehearse their lines.

C.C.C.L. Features Questions on Faith

The 1963 Campus Conference on Christian Living featured the Reverend Richard Hamilton of Indianapolis. Daily services, informal discussion sessions, a Retreat and a Vesper service comprised the week's program.

The general theme for the Conference was "Questions on the Way of Faith."

Reverend Hamilton, pastor of St. Luke's Methodist Church in Indianapolis, graduated from Central High School in Evansville. He is considered one of the outstanding young ministers in Indiana.

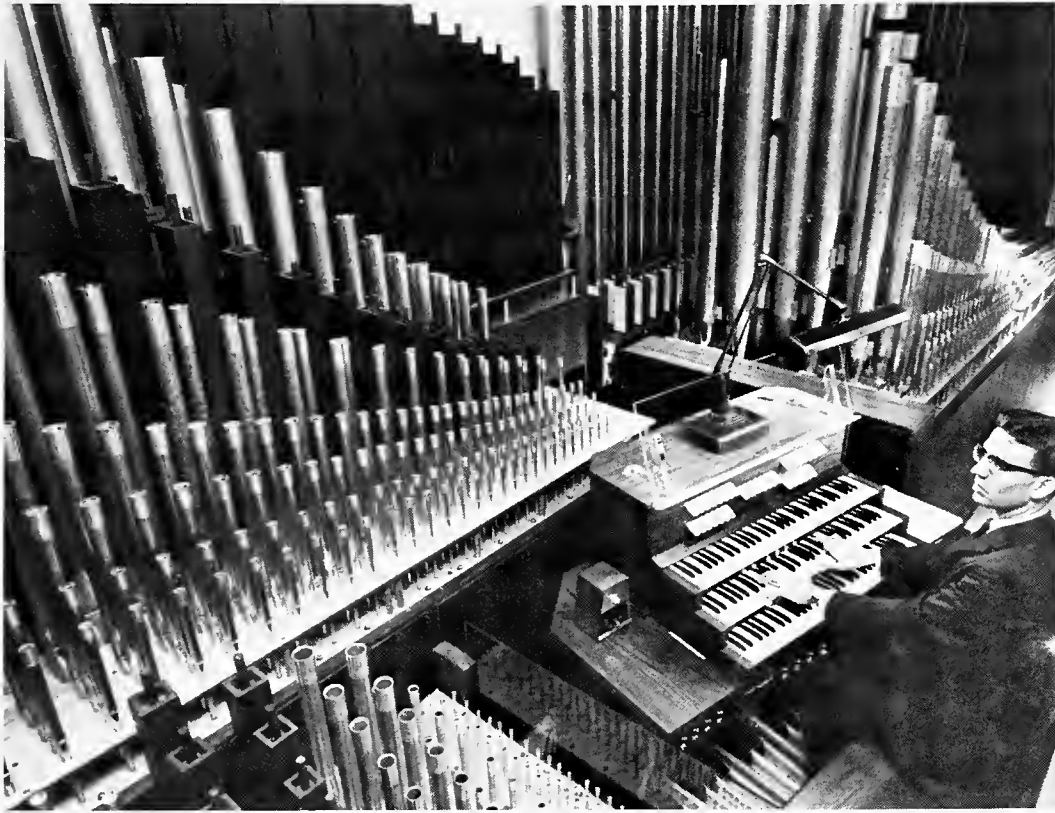

Reverend Hamilton led an informal discussion in Hughes Hall, one of three such meetings held during the Conference.

Members of MSM and other interested students took advantage of mealtime to ask questions of Reverend Hamilton, and to discuss topics covered during the Conference.

Freshman Great Books and Organ Concert Highlight November

Carl Staplin was the featured organist at the first dedicatory organ concert in Wheeler Concert Hall.

The first of four dedicatory organ concerts on the new pipe organ in Wheeler Concert Hall, featured Carl Staplin, who teaches organ and theory at E.C.

The $45,000 organ, which weighed 14,000 pounds, was received disassembled.

The organ was used for recitals, teaching, and accompanying college choral productions.

A series of book reviews entitled Freshmen Great Books, was presented twice each quarter.

Cap and Gown Senior Women's Honorary Organization was the sponsoring group for the lectures.

The Lonely Crowd, The Last Days of Socrates, The Aims of Education, Areopagitica and of Education, The Abolition of Man and the "Gospel of St. John" were reviewed by Dr. Paul Brabill, head of the English department.

Beta Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Omicron was the first national sorority to be chartered at Evansville College. It was chartered September, 1949. It was founded in 1888 in Columbia, Missouri.

Last spring the Betas won second place in Musical Madness with a skit about King Neptune's court. It was entitled "Twenty Fathams Deep." Their homecoming display won first place in the women's division. It was a huge skunk smelling a flower with the slogan "We Scent Victory."

A pledge class of thirteen girls kept the actives hopping especially on Turn-about Day when the actives had to clean the suite which was covered with confetti.

It was a big day for Julie Low when she was pledged by Carolyn Schnur.

The youngest sorority at Evansville College is the Delta Lambda chapter of Phi Mu which was chartered in 1952. Phi Mu was founded at Wesleyan College in Macon, Georgia in 1852.

One of the biggest social events of the year for the Phi Mu's is their annual Presentation Ball. At the ball their new pledges are presented as they walk through a heart of coronation flowers. This year they also introduced their pledge class of thirteen girls to the faculty during a tea in their suite.

Their most important project is supporting an orphan at Hillcrest Home. The orphan, a little girl, is named Dale Vaughn.

Duane Campbell, the first guard, reports to Creon, the king, that Polynices has been buried by Antigone.

Lights Winter Season

Jean Anouilh's adaptation of the Greek tragedy vivifying directed by Dudley Thomas easily is one of the best productions the College has seen this year.

Antigone, though timeless, has a didactic purpose: to teach the heartlessness of men to their fellows.

Ingenious blending of contemporary staging with explosive lighting, cuttings from the recording La Creation du Monde, costumes designed and constructed by students and a fine cast add up to a successful production.

Marcia Bennett in the title role of Antigone, the barefoot, humble innocent, won the Sammy award for her portrayal.

Although a critical, black perception of society, the audience is left with a feeling of emotional emptiness, drained from empathy for the title role.

Ismene tells Creon that he can't kill her sister Antigone for burying Polynices.

The three guards who watch over Polynices' body bring Antigone to Creon after she has buried him a second time.

Haemon tells his father Creon that he must not kill Antigone.

Basketball, Lectures and Study Highlight Winter

February was a big month for students and faculty at E. C. The much beloved basketball Aces finished the ICC Conference undefeated. They were the first team to do this in the history of the conference.

Ashley Montague, internationally known author of books about man and society came to address students and faculty. He was sponsored by Cap and Gown, a scholastic honorary for senior women.

Lieutenant Governor Richard Ristine also addressed students and faculty on "Education." Mr. Ristine was sponsored by members of Circle "K."

February meant, also, that another quarter had ended and the time for final exams was here again. The Indian was deserted and the library was overflowing with students studying.

Ashley Montague, visited the E.C. campus to speak to students and faculty on "The New Image of Man."

February marked the end of the winter quarter and Chuck Leach and Pat White took advantage of the quietness in the Library to study for final exams.

Humes goes up for two during NCAA championship game.

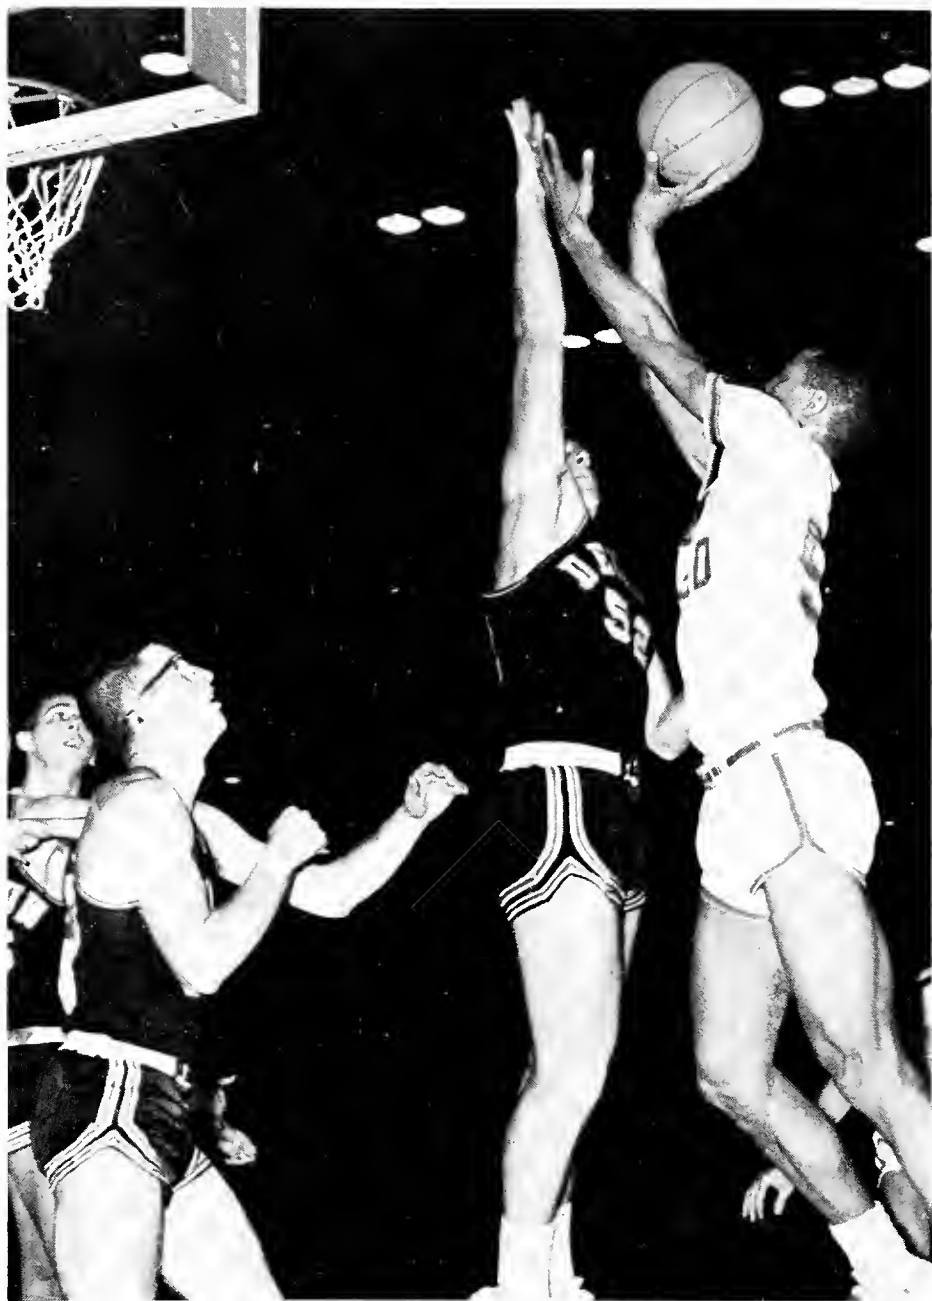

Watkins was just as amazed as 12,000 fans when he went up for a lay up without the ball.

ACES AT PLAY

A trio of Aces, Larry Humes, No. 50, Jerry Sloan, No. 52, and Paul Bullard, No. 34, battle Butler's strong 6-6 center, Jeff Blue.

Evansville's outstanding sophomore, Larry Humes, attempts field goal against DePauw's 6-5 Dick Putt.

Freshman Terry Atwater is surrounded by Southern Illinois freshmen. Other freshman Aces are Jim Rubush, No. 32, and Herb Williams.

Aces' center Ed Zausch needs aid and Dr. Buster Briley is only too glad to help big Ed get contact lens back in place.

Freshman jumping jack Herb Williams gets mad in Southern Illinois—Evansville game and decides to dunk the ball. Aces won 86—73 after losing earlier in the season at Southern, 79—72.

Swim Aces Strong in First Year of ICC Competition

The Aces' swim team made their ICC debut this year, after playing only non-intercollegiate foes in their first season.

Dr. Melvin W. Hyde, president of the college, fired the starting gun for Evansville's first intercollegiate session in Evansville and the pool's history, Dec. 7, against Eastern Illinois. The EC tankmen obliged the home crowd with a 56—35 victory.

During the season the Evansville swimmers also defeated Ball State, defending ICC champion, Illinois State, and Valparaiso, while losing to powerful Indiana State, Eastern Kentucky, and Southern Illinois.

The men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity crowd around their 1962-63 all-sports trophy and the other athletic trophies they won during the year.

ΛΧΑ AND ΑΟΠ FINISH SECOND

It marked the fourth time in the past seven years that SAE has captured the All-Sports trophy. It also ended a three-year domination by the Lambda Chi's, who placed second this time. Hughes Hall finished third.

SAE took first place in football, men's and co-ed badminton, paddleball, and golf.

In the women's division, Women's Recreation Association emerged the winner. AOPi finished a close second, only 6½ points behind.

WRA wrapped up championships in swimming, track, softball, and co-ed tennis. AOPi walked off with titles in basketball, volleyball, and co-ed badminton.

Dorm and ROTC get set for snap from center in intramural football action of past season.

A CAREER OPPORTUNITY is the immediate goal of senior business majors Nick Haan, left, and Harry Ransdell, right, Interstate Finance President Leland M. Feigel, seated, is advising them that the rapidly expanding field of consumer finance offers excellent career opportunities for the college graduate. Mr. Feigel is a graduate of the Class of '29 and a trustee of Evansville College.

INTERSTATE FINANCE with headquarters in Evansville operates more than 180 branch offices in 16 states from coast to coast. Interstate's expansion program creates excellent career opportunities in branch management and supervision. Your future in consumer finance may be discussed with the company's Personnel Director, located in downtown Evansville at Fourth and Sycamore.

Dear Readers:

With this year's Linc I have tried to create a basic book which future staffs can use as a foundation. I sincerely hope that in my effort I have not overlooked anyone and that I have presented all the events possible in the number of pages allowed.

The one thing that is noticeably missing from this book is color pictures. We have used a two-page color spread in the beginning that we think depicts E.C. at its best, in both fall and spring, in the beginning and the end of each year.

In dedicating this book to Ralph Olmsted, we feel that we have picked the person who, possibly more than anyone else, represents Evansville College and all that it stands for.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the people who have worked so hard to put together this Linc. A special thanks goes to each staff member and editor for the hours of hard work and for their endless patience. I would like to personally thank Anne Pampe for her work as Campus Editor. Through her efforts we have pictured many groups in this book that have been missing from yearbooks of the past.

A special thanks goes also to Paul Hartman, Assistant Director of this opportunity to thank Jim Loving, Marilyn Nonte and Harry Ransdell personally.

Not to be forgotten either are the janitors who put up with our messes and the night watchman who didn't lock us in the office on the many occasions we worked "after hours."

But, I think the biggest thanks goes to "Our Leader" and most worthy advisor, John H. Boyd, Jr., for his patience, confidence and understanding. Without Mr. Boyd to bolster our sagging spirits most of us would have given up long ago. No matter how big problems seemed to be, Mr. Boyd reduced them to their proper size in no time.

There are many other persons too numerous to mention personally who are responsible in some way or another for this yearbook. To these people I would like to say, also thank you for a job well done.

For myself, if each of you enjoys some part of this book enough to read it again sometime in the future, I am pleased and proud to have been a part of it.

Sincerely

Davey

Public Relations, for the many negatives and pictures he loaned to us. If our pictures failed to turn out, Mr. Hartman came to the rescue, and occasionally the situation was reversed.

I'm especially grateful to Steve Loewenkamp and Steve Halbig for their work on the Sports Section. These two fellas came to the rescue and possible prevented a major crisis. If it hadn't been for their willingness to work, even late at night, we might have had a girl sports editor!

Thank you is not enough to say to the American Yearbook Company and their representative, Bob Sakel, for the many pains caused them. But, unfortunately, thank you is about the best I can say. I sincerely appreciate their kindness and understanding for my many mistakes. They never lost their tempers, which is more than most of us can say.

The photographers were the greatest when it came to taking and printing pictures. Often my demands seemed impossible, but these frequently forgotten heroes managed to come through with just what I asked for each time. Most of the time photographers receive very little credit, especially in a book of this type, so I would like to take
